- Statement from the Chief Public Health Officer of Canada [08-10-2021]
  - “Yesterday was the International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples. This day is observed every August 9 to celebrate the cultures, languages, traditions and contributions of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and around the world. Each year, a different theme is recognized - this year’s theme is “Leaving No One Behind: Indigenous Peoples and the Call for a New Social Contract”. I recognize that First Nations, Inuit and Métis have experienced centuries of systemic racism and discrimination and that there is a need to work together to build a new social contract to advance social, economic and health equity. I also acknowledge the inequitable impacts that the COVID-19 pandemic has had on Indigenous peoples across the country and am committed to working with Indigenous communities and health professionals, provinces and territories to help improve health equity.”
