Lababstract - June 2016

Tick Surveillance: New Tick Identification Requisition Form

To Healthcare Providers and Public Health Professionals:

As of June 1, 2016, submitters are required to complete and submit the new “Surveillance Form for Tick Identification” which is available at www.publichealthontario.ca/Requisitions when submitting ticks for identification by the Public Health Ontario Laboratory (PHOL).

The new, simplified form replaces three separate forms (Parasitology Patient’s History Form, PHO General Test Requisition Form, and Public Health Agency of Canada (PHAC) Passive Surveillance for Blacklegged Ticks Form).

As per Infectious Disease Society of America (IDSA) guidelines, tick testing should not be used for diagnosis and management of Lyme disease. PHOL’s tick identification service, and subsequent PCR testing on blacklegged ticks to detect various humans pathogens performed at PHAC’s National Microbiology Laboratory (NML) is for surveillance purposes only. The tick testing program is primarily used to monitor emerging tick populations in Ontario. Certain parts of Ontario, including Long Point Provincial Park, Thousand Islands National Park and Point Pelee National Park are known areas for established tick populations. Therefore, submitting ticks from areas where ticks are already established does not provide additional information. For further information on known risk areas, please refer to the PHO’s Ontario Lyme disease estimated risk areas map, which provides data on the geographical distribution of blacklegged ticks (Ixodes scapularis).

PHOL turnaround time (TAT) for tick identification is up to three weeks, though during peak season it may be delayed. The NML TAT for Lyme disease PCR for ticks is up to six months.
